 OrkidTech

Quality Software Development Expertise

About us:

Based in Ireland with design and development partners across Europe, OrkidTech provides access to Expertise, Experience and Excellence in the creation of software solutions through our leading-edge training and mentoring activities, hackathons, open source contributions, research support and through our software development partners across Europe.

Our approach:

Working with our partners across Europe gives us access to the latest ways of delivering software smartly and efficiently. Our partners have expertise in specific domains and this enables OrkidTech to deliver solutions utilising many different technology stacks. We have access to a large pool of excellent solution architects, developers, designers and UX people. Our first step is to properly understand the technical challenges you face, and then working with you we identify solution strategies matched to an extensive talent pool from which we can then form a team to make it happen.

What we do:

We enable our clients to Build Better Software Faster! OrkidTech has passionate enthusiastic developers innovating with the very latest technologies and tools. We design, build and deliver great solutions for our clients. We help our clients reduce their delivery time, bring down costs and improve their software development capability. By introducing innovative solutions and utilising new technologies your technical staff can be Encouraged, Energised and Excited by the new opportunities on offer, which has a positive impact on company culture and staff retention.

Delivering a technical advantage:

Whether it be Digital Transformation, or Service Augmentation or some other innovative application of digital information, your company must take advantage of the latest technologies to rapidly deliver innovative products and services. By having technical partners specialised in a variety of cutting-edge technologies we can help our clients gain a competitive advantage. We utilise the very latest tools, technologies and software processes to enable our clients deliver solutions in the most efficient and timely manner.

SOFTWARE DEVELOPMENT SERVICES

Full Development

We take full ownership and architect, design, develop and deliver solutions for our clients.

Joint Development

We work together with our client as part of their team, helping them with their software development requirements. In addition we often help them by up-skilling their development team and introducing current software engineering best practices.

Team Augmentation

We provide technical resources to work on our clients projects. Resources can include technical leads, designers, developers (back- and front-office, server- and client-side), UX specialists etc.

SKILLS DEVELOPMENT

Focussed Training:

In a constantly evolving technology landscape our training can help you up-skill and stay on top of things. We know that developers want to learn from genuine professionals with Real World experience. Our intensive hands-on courses are prepared and delivered by domain experts through workshops utilising the very latest techniques to solve real industry problems, in an open atmosphere of collaboration and frictionless knowledge exchange.

Pride in our Work:

At OrkidTech we are very lucky to work with many very talented people. We are extremely passionate about our craft, about Software Development and take great pride in our work. We love finding solutions for difficult problems and helping our clients achieve success. We are extremely grateful to have access to such a diverse and talented group of people!
